Thought for the Day

Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's gifts. It involves many things, but above all the power of going out of one's self and seeing and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another.—Exchange.

School Entertainment at the Temple Theater Last Evening

Last fall a department of expression was inaugurated in the Ocala graded and high school, with Miss Mary Lee Hill as teacher. To let the general public see what was being accomplished in the new branch, a play was presented last evening at the Temple by the pupils. A small admission fee was charged to defray the expenses incident to commencement.

The house was packed and the praise expressed was unanimous for the teacher and pupils when the final curtain dropped. Miss Hill is a teacher of ability as was shown by her pupils whose careful training was visible throughout the play.

The "Land of Night" was the fairy play presented. It was given in two acts and the scene was the Garden of the Princess of Night in the Province of Darkness, Kingdom of the Sky. The scene of the first act was early in the evening and the second act, early evening three days later. The stage was prettily and appropriately decorated.

Cast

Princess of Darkness, Daughter of King Moon, ruler of the Province of Darkness, Kingdom of the Sky—Inez Sandifer.

Princess of Dawn, Daughter of King Sun, ruler of the Province of Light—Mary Garrett.

Miss Jane Jorgway, of Woman's Rights fame, of Hoboken, N. J.—Caroline Harris.

Nora Mulligan, servant—Mabel Aiken.

Star Maids, attendants of the Princess of Darkness—Louise Rentz, Sidney Perry, Eloise Henry, Katherine Strunk, Nina Camp, Katie Mae Eagleton.

Sunbeam Maids, attendants of the Princess of Dawn—Callie Gissendanner, Agnes Burford, Theo Beckham, Marian Long, Nettie Camp, Louise Spencer.

Moonbeam, King Moon's courier—Norman Horne.

Eloise, a poor little girl from earth—Margaret Little.

Flower Maids—Irene Carn, Dolly Jones, Ruby Edwards, Christine Close, Marie Robertson, Annie McKay, Elizabeth Horne, Marian Melfert.

Each character and part in the charming play was cleverly portrayed. Miss Sandifer interpreted the character of the Princess of Darkness with graceful dignity and exceeding cleverness. She was beautiful in her robe of black, spangled with stars. Miss Sandifer was ably supported by Miss Garrett and Miss Harris, both of whom acquitted themselves with great credit. Mr. Horne, as the Moonbeam, was the clever, handsome courier just needed to play the part of the pretty princess. Miss Aiken's delineation of an Irish maid was simply perfect.

The graceful dancing of the Star Maids, in black dresses with silver stars, and Sunbeam Maids in yellow was very much admired.

It is always a great pleasure to see young people sustain parts in any performance but the acting by the pupils last night was especially pleasing, attractive and gratifying to the pride of every parent present, as well as the school faculty and Miss Hill in particular.

The young ladies' auction club met this afternoon with Miss Annie Atkinson, who entertained only club members, her niece, Miss Virginia Sistrunk and Miss Bessie McKissock.

Miss Grace Milligan of Anthony is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Louis Lang.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Edwards and Dr. and Mrs. Davis of Irvine were out of town people attending the school entertainment at the Temple last evening.

Yesterday's Times-Union contained a pretty picture of Miss Elinor Nixon of Tallahassee, who received second honors in the Leon county high school the past term. Miss Nixon formerly lived in Ocala and was conceded to be one of the brightest pupils in school.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gray, who have been visiting the latter's brother and sister, Mr. John Carney at Lake Weir and Mrs. James H. Hill in this city, have returned to their home in Tampa.

Mr. Jim Pyles is ill with fever at his home on S. W. Tuttle street. Wednesday when in the southern part of the county on business for his firm, Mr. Pyles was taken with a severe chill and drove home with high fever.

Miss Margaret Hart will conclude tomorrow a few days' visit to Mrs. Herbert Latner, leaving for her home in Orlando.

Miss Lillian McKey of Valdosta, a recent visitor to Ocala, the guest of Mrs. S. T. Sistrunk, is being delightfully entertained while in Jacksonville, the guest of Mrs. Julian Pre-witte. Wednesday Miss McKey shared honors with another house guest at a charming auction party. The honorees received as souvenirs of the occasion hand embroidered card cases and the four guests scoring highest were presented growing ferns.

OCALA'S SECOND ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

The annual flower show will be held Monday afternoon at the court house square at 5 o'clock. The children competing are expected to have their flowers at the band stand promptly at that hour.

There will be first and second prizes for the best garden and exhibit of flowers grown for boy and girl between the ages of six and ten years and first and second prizes for boy and girl between the ages of ten and fifteen years. A prize will also be given for the best display of cut flowers grown and exhibited by a lady. The prizes this year will be extremely pretty.

Mrs. George J. Blitch and other members of the civic committee with Judge D. S. Williams, Mr. E. C. Bennett and Mr. Bunyan Stephens visited the gardens yesterday and again today and are pleased with the many really pretty gardens the little folks have made. The committee intends to grade the children on their gardens and on the display of flowers jointly in order to reward the efforts of those who have given their gardens the best attention.

The flower fete to be held Monday afternoon will be the second held in Ocala and as the seasons have been more favorable this year than last the exhibits will be better than last year's and the interest among the children has been very much more general this year.

Through the kindness of the management of the Temple theater each child in the flower contest will be given a matinee ticket, which is to take the place of the ice cream treat the committee had expected to give the contestants.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

RICE SOUP.

DINNER MENU.

Rice Soup.
Creamed Chicken a la King.
Lettuce and Tomato Salad. Stuffed Potatoes.
Lemon Jelly. Chocolate Bread.
Pudding.
Coffee. Cheese.

MAKE a good beef stock or vegetable stock. Clear and strain. Wash and clean two tablespoonsfuls of rice. Cover the rice and boil for ten minutes. Put into the soup and boil for ten minutes more.

Chicken a la King.

Boil a three or four pound spring chicken. Take off all the meat and cut in good slices. If you desire to use only the white meat keep the dark for chicken salad or croquettes for a luncheon dish. Cut up two green peppers and boil in water until tender. Chop up two pimentoes and one small cupful of mushrooms. Mix all in a skillet or chaffing dish. Put in one heaping teaspoonful of butter. Season with salt, pepper and a little paprika. When the dish is done serve on squares of buttered toast. Garnish with parsley.

Lemon Jelly.

Soak one-half box of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water. Pour in two cupfuls of boiling water and stir until the gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Mix one-half cupful of lemon juice with one cupful of sugar. Pour into the gelatin and strain the mixture. Put into a mold and keep on ice until ready to serve.

Chocolate Bread Pudding.

Use two cupfuls of bread crumbs softened in one quart of scalded milk. Mix with it two squares of chocolate, cut fine. Season with one teaspoonful of salt and one scant cupful of sugar. When cool add two eggs, well beaten. Bake one hour and serve with hard sauce. Hard sauce: Mix one cupful of powdered sugar, one-half cupful of butter and a little vanilla flavoring.

ONE RESOURCE IN RESERVE

"That's the third time," observed Mrs. Millsap, who was visiting country relatives, "that I've heard reference made to 'Mrs. Minkler's pie-pudding,' and it usually brings out a laugh. If there's any joke about it I'd like to hear it."

"Well, I'll tell you the story," said one of the cousins. "Mrs. Minkler does the cooking for her family of four, and as she isn't in love with the science of cookery it's very little in the way of extras the family gets. Mrs. Minkler says she considers 'apple sass and molasses' a good enough dessert for any one."

"Well, one day for a special treat she baked a plum pie for dinner, allowing a quarter apiece for each member of the family. But while she was preparing dinner her sister-in-law looked into the kitchen and announced that two cousins had come over from Nashville to spend the day."

"'Snatched,' said Mrs. Minkler. 'Now I'll have to cut the pie into six pieces.'"

"A half hour later two neighbors, Judge and Mrs. Peters, called, and Mr. Minkler asked them to stay for dinner, to which they agreed."

"'Mercy sakes!' grumbled Mrs. Minkler. 'Now I'll have to cut the pie into eight pieces.'"

"Just as dinner was being dished up who should drop in but an old bachelor friend of the family from the other side of town, and he also accepted Mr. Minkler's invitation to take dinner."

"'Amanda Jane!' declared the exasperated Mrs. Minkler to her sister-in-law. 'I'll make out to cut that pesky pie into nine pieces, but I tell you now it won't stand any more cutting than that. If a single other person comes here to dinner today I'll squash the pie up, dish it round with sass on it and call it a pudding.'"

WHOOPIING COUGH

"When my daughter had whooping cough she coughed so hard at one time that she had hemorrhage of the lungs. I was terribly alarmed about her condition. Seeing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so highly recommended, I got her a bottle and it relieved the cough at once. Before she had finished two bottles of this remedy she was entirely well," writes Mrs. S. E. Grimes, Crooksville, Ohio. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.
